

Web Design

Good web design and marketing is a proven method to promote your business to a domestic as well as a global audience. We provide a full web design service from site structure and initial planning through development, design, hosting and marketing. We will choose the most appropriate platform for your system and closely integrate this into your business strategy. We also assure high accessibility levels conforming to W3C A-AAA standards. Our main Web services are listed below:

Static Websites Static websites are perfect for delivery of a small effective web presence. Using clean CSS and XHTML coding we can provide you with a beautiful looking site with code that is Search Engine Optimised to guarantee significant exposure through search engines. We can help write your content and develop your online corporate identity to fit closely with your business strategy. The static website is best suited for content that will not significantly change over time.

Content Management Systems Content Management Systems are more appropriate for websites that have content that changes regularly and would need to dynamically update on the website. This could be a magazine style website or a website that has rolling news with different users submitting to the website. We currently use the Joomla system for CMS websites, for more information please click here.

Flash and Shockwave The most attractive websites on the internet use flash and shockwave to deliver content. Focusing on media rich delivery we can provide a range of services using the Flash and Shockwave platforms. We can also integrate flash and shockwave movies into your website or create complex multimedia productions mixing video, interactive elements and high level animation. For more information please click here.

E-Commerce There are many different types of E-Commerce sites. We provide website builds for a variety of retail, subscription and auction websites. Integrating E-Commerce into your accounts and business flow is easier than you realise. For more information click here.

Social Networking With the rise of online communities such as Facebook and MySpace there is now a huge array of options if you are considering a Social Network solution. It could be an advanced dating site or a project based closed community. Social Network solutions are robust, advanced and aggregated. For more information click here.